I WANT TO COACH BECAUSE: I believe that the skills, work ethic, team work, learned in basketball are very closely related to a productive life. I coach because I love the game, but more importantly I coach because I love turning boys into responsible, productive, proactive, hard working young men who have a higher self image & self belief because of what we do here. What I do in coaching is very impactful in kids lives & who they become, basketball is just the tool we use to accomplish this but the outcome is what I envision for giving back to future generations in making this world a better place.
