I WANT TO COACH BECAUSE:

- I believe strongly in the foundational life skills that young people can learn from sports and from being part of a team. For me basketball is about more than putting the ball through the hoop. It is about developing grit and learning to fighting through adversity. It is also about learning how to be humble as a champion. As part of the coaching team, I hope that I can help the boys improve their individual basketball skills as well as help them learn to be leaders on and off the court.
