I WANT TO COACH BECAUSE:

“I want to coach for HLC because it’s the best program that care about players, their skill development, and work ethic. We don’t just teach basketball; we want players to become better players in any sport they participate in through our core training program and become young men and women who will become productive members of society. It is amazing coaching players and helping them take their game to the next level and teaching them life lessons. This goes hand in hand with HLC’s mission, vision and values.”
